

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In a folding bed with a central dolly, the dolly comprises two separate parts that can be assembled together: a trestle made of a shaped tubular bar which forms two side shoulders and base sections, and two box members of plastic material that are 5 mounted and snap fastened on the trestle shoulders and that are equipped at their ends with seats for the pivotal connection of side parts of the folding bed.